

ICE HOCKEY: Lee Valley Lions brought their losing streak to an end with a battling victory over local rivals Romford Fury at the weekend.

A goalless first period was followed by the opener from Lions new boy Yassin Ahrazem. Another strike from him nudged them in front after Romford had equalised.

Angela Taylor netted and Ahrazem grabbed his hat-trick as Lee Valley took control.

However, Romford blazed back into the contest with three unanswered goals to level, only for Valley to dig deep and find two more goals, with Taylor converting both for her hat-trick. For a full report go to guardian-series.co.uk/sport.

The team face Chelmsford Warriors at home this Saturday.
